Eisenhower Appeals To Congress To Make Another Try At Passing Highways Measure

By Gardner L. Bridge
WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower appealed to Congress today to make another try at passing a highway construction bill before adjourning.

Declaring the nation "badly needs new highways," the President said:

"The good of our people, of our economy and of our defense, requires that construction of these highways be undertaken at once."

Compromise Possible

Although the legislation was buried under an avalanche of House votes yesterday, House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts said he believed a compromise measure could be salvaged "if we really want to do it."

Time was running out, however, and it appeared that only a legislative miracle could answer Eisenhower's plea. Congressional leaders are planning on final adjournment within the next few days and a new highway bill would have to start from scratch.

Opinions Differ

Eisenhower said he was deeply disappointed by the House action and added:

"There is a difference of conviction, I realize, over means of financing this construction. I have proposed one plan of financing which I consider to be sound."

Others have proposed other methods.

"Adequate financing there must be, but contention over the method should not be permitted to deny our people these critically needed roads."

"I would devoutly hope that the Congress would reconsider this entire matter before terminating this session."

Cut In Proposed Tax

A start in this direction was made by Rep. Souder (R-Calif.) who introduced a bill cutting in half the taxes proposed in the Democratic measure and providing for a government corporation to issue bonds to help pay for the program.

U. S., Israel File Protest With Bulgaria

By Ted R. Lurie
JERUSALEM, July 28 (AP)—Communist Bulgaria acknowledged today its anti-aircraft gunners shot down the Israeli airliner that carried 58 persons to death behind the Iron Curtain yesterday.

The Bulgarians expressed regret and arranged an official inquiry.

Investigation Barred

But they declined to admit a six-man commission from Israel for a separate on-the-spot study of the flaming disaster that overtook the silver-winged Constellation of El Al Israel Airlines Ltd., just north of the Greek-Bulgarian border.

They said the plane strayed over Bulgaria and the gunners, unable to identify it, shot the tail off.

Israel protested the destruction of the plane as a grave international offense and shocking recklessness. The Israeli government demanded compensation.

With 12 Americans among the dead, the United States also plans a protest "in appropriate terms."

U. S. Indignant

Henry Snydam, State Department press officer, said in Washington the United States is indignant at this tragedy behind the Iron Curtain—"repetitious of incidents of this kind which we had earnestly hoped would not recur"—and will file its protest as soon as full information is at hand.

The United States does not have diplomatic relations with Bulgaria, so Washington's document will be relayed through Switzerland.

Diplomatic pressure may develop over other capitals.

Four Britons, four Canadians and a South African were among the dead. Indignation at the incident was expressed by speakers in Britain's House of Commons today.

The plane, downed on the Vienna-Istanbul leg of a flight from London to Israel, also carried five Russian immigrants who planned to join relatives in the holy land.

Governor Holds Out Hope For Senate Passage Of Classified Income Tax

HARRISBURG, July 28 (AP)—Gov. Leader today held out hope for Senate approval of his House-passed classified income tax. He promised that the "utmost influence" would be brought to bear to gain support for the plan in the Republican-controlled upper chamber.

"There might be Republican members of the Senate willing to support it," he said, but he wouldn't mention any names at his weekly news conference.

"We're going to appeal to all of them. We'd like to get two or three."

"The (one per cent) sales tax is a dead duck," Leader said when asked if it would be continued after Aug. 31 as a compromise in the event the income tax is killed by the Senate.

Asked if he thought the bill had a chance for final passage, he replied, "I've never been optimistic but I have never lost faith that this is the best bill for business as well as the working man."

Lack Necessary Votes

Democrats have 24 votes in the Senate, two less than necessary to pass a bill and two less than the Republicans. For the last month, however, Democrats have had only 23 due to the illness of Sen. Miles R. Derr (Lycoming).

"We're morally obligated to do our best to prevail upon them (the Senate) to support the program."

"We've worked too hard on the bill in the last three months to have it sent over there (Senate) and cut to pieces before it has a decent hearing."

The governor's position varies from his previous stand that he felt his job was chiefly to get the bill through the Democratic-controlled House.

Explains Hold-Up

"... But I'm not overlooking the fact that the Republicans have 26 votes and the majority over there and the responsibility is theirs."

"We're hoping for enough time to get enough help to pass it," the governor added in explaining the reason for the delay in House transmittal of the certified bill to the Senate. House leaders held up delivery of the bill Tuesday after it passed 108-98. They intend to deliver it Monday.

"I think Speaker (H. G.) Andrews deserves to be commended because he saw fit to delay delivery of the bill until temps cooled and until it could go over and have the fair hearing in the Senate it deserves," the governor asserted.

To Use Influence

Senate leaders, even before House approval of the plan, declared the income tax would be killed as soon as possible.

"The Senate would have been making a mockery of the democratic process if it had killed the bill in 36 or 48 hours in simply a political maneuver," Leader told the conference.

"We are going to use all the influence we can bring to bear on the part of labor and fair minded people, Republicans and Democrats, to gain support for this tax program."

"The bill was to be lynched."

Meanwhile the governor said patronage was "not an important factor" in gaining House approval of the measure. "Half a dozen things swung the balance."

Harold Talbott Accused Of Malfeasance

By Gardner L. Bridge
WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—A demand for the immediate ouster of Harold E. Talbott as secretary of the Air Force was voiced in the Senate today by Sen. Morse (D-Ore.), one of six senators who voted against Talbott's appointment in February 1953.

"What is the President waiting for?" Morse asked.

Declaring Talbott's outside business activities constituted "a very serious case of malfeasance in government office," Morse said:

Morse Demands Haste

"If this administration thinks that it is going to get the American people to swallow this mess of corruption, it is going to find that the people are going to gag."

Morse spoke out after President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday that he intended to read the full record of a Senate investigation and then decide personally whether Talbott, an old friend, had violated "a proper standard of ethics."

Asked today whether an offer of resignation had been received at the White House from Talbott, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said: "No."

Defer Action On Sharp

Another of Eisenhower's Air Force appointments ran into trouble when the Senate Armed Services Committee deferred action on the nomination of Dudley C. Sharp to be assistant secretary because Sharp said he wanted to retain his stock in an investment trust.

Sharp, a Houston business man and Republican finance chairman in Harris County, Tex., would be in charge of Air Force procurement if confirmed.

Sharp acknowledged that some of the companies whose stocks are represented in the fund do business with the government, but none with the Air Force.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) said the Armed Services Committee is "trying to determine" whether approval of Sharp's nomination would be consistent with committee policy.

No Hasty Decision

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee which inquired into Talbott's activities as a partner in the New York management engineering firm of Paul B. Mulligan & Co., while serving as air secretary, said the group would not be hasty about reporting its finding on Talbott.

The subcommittee ended its public hearings yesterday after Talbott had testified, "I now see that I was mistaken" in promoting the Mulligan firm's business from the Pentagon. Talbott said that effective Sunday he is relinquishing the Mulligan partnership, which paid him $152,032 in the 2½ years since he became civilian head of the Air Force.

Compromise Foreign Aid Bill Speeded To President's Desk

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—A compromise $2,700,000,000 foreign aid bill sailed through the House and Senate today as Congress worked closer to adjournment.

The measure now goes to President Eisenhower for his signature. It carries about 560 million dollars less than he asked for in new money to bolster America's allies around the world.

Court Upsets Conviction Of Clyde Powell

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Clyde L. Powell, a key figure in last year's investigations of housing "windfalls," today won his fight to keep from going to jail for contempt of court.

The U. S. Court of Appeals, in a unanimous decision, reversed the contempt conviction of the dapper, gray-haired former No. 2 man in the Federal Housing Administration.

U. S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts, sitting without a jury, had convicted Powell of giving a federal grand jury "obstructive and contemptuous" answers to questions and of disobeying his order to answer certain questions.

Inaccurate Statement

The appellate court ruled that Max H. Goldschtein, a Justice Department prosecutor, gave Judge Letts a "grossly inaccurate" statement as to what had gone on in the grand jury.

During Powell's various appearances before the grand jury, Goldschtein three times had him hailed before Judge Letts on the ground he had refused to answer questions. Each time the judge told him to answer.

The grand jury was searching for evidence of bribery or other criminality on the part of federal employees or promoters in the operation of a vast postwar rental housing program, carried out under a law which expired in 1950. Powell, an assistant FIA administrator, was in charge of the program for a number of years.

Profits Pocketed

Congressional investigators received evidence of millions in profits pocketed by promoters who obtained FIA-guaranteed loans in excess of actual construction costs. These became known as "windfalls." Powell was ousted in April, 1954. Investigators had heard testimony about heavy gambling losses by Powell and of loans to him by housing project promoters.

Army Sending Atom Cannon To Far East

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—The Army is putting atomic age weapons in the hands of its forces standing guard along the Far East perimeter of the Communist world.

It announced today that a six-gun battalion of 280mm. cannon and a battery of long-range bombardment rockets are being assigned to the Far East.

The Army already has six battalions of the 280mm. guns in Europe and has announced plans for sending several batteries of the 726mm. "Honest John" rockets there.

Police Reviewed

Both the cannon and the rocket can use either conventional explosives or nuclear warheads.

As has been the custom previously, the Pentagon would not say whether atomic ammunition is going along with the weapons or would be flown to the Far East if and when needed.

In announcing the assignment of the weapons to the Far East, the Army said that was being done pursuant to "established United States policy to make available to its forces overseas the most modern developments in military weapons."

While the formal announcement does not specify exactly where in the Far East the weapons are being sent, there were reports that the cannons are being landed, probably tomorrow, on Okinawa. The rockets, it was learned, are destined for Army forces in Japan.

None For Korea

The terms of the Korean truce preclude the shipment of either weapon to the defense line in Korea. The truce provides there must be no buildup of forces by either side.

The 280mm. gun, with its carriage and two tractors, weighs about 80 tons, and can fire 11-inch shells accurately at a range of about 20 miles.

Using a reducing device for the bore of the gun which allows it to fire somewhat smaller shells, it has a maximum accurate range of about 30 miles.

The "Honest John" rocket has a range of between 15 and 20 miles. It must be aimed at a target before firing; it is not a guided missile. The rocket weighs about two tons.

Lehigh Valley Girl Crowned Potato Queen

COUDERSPORT, July 28 (AP)—Miss Mary Ann Kuhns, 20-year-old Lehigh County nursing student, today was named 1955-56 Pennsylvania potato queen at the annual field days celebration of the Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers.

The 5-foot 2-inch brown-eyed brunette was crowned queen by Dr. William L. Henning, state secretary of agriculture, after she was selected by a panel of judges in a contest against 13 other daughters or relatives of potato growers.

The new potato queen, whose father, Harold, operates a farm at Breinigsville outside Allentown, will be graduated Aug. 11 from the Allentown General Hospital Nursing School.

She succeeds Miss Faye Mensch, Catawissa, as queen.

Synod Finds Pastor Guilty Of Heresy

MILWAUKEE, July 28 (AP)—A young Lutheran minister accused of heresy by his synod was found guilty today on nine counts of deviating from church doctrine by a trial board of seven other pastors which recommended he be suspended from the ministry.

The findings, against Rev. George P. Crist Jr., 31, were returned by the trial board of the Northwest Synod, United Lutheran Church after three hours of deliberation. Rev. Crist faced 36 charges in the trial action which was recommended by a five-member fact-finding committee that investigated his case in June.

He was found innocent of the other five charges.

He was alleged to have "adulterated the word of God" and mixed his own "opinions and surmises" with the Scripture. The penalty, if the verdict is upheld by the Northwest synod of the United Lutheran Church, could range from a rebuke to a defrocking. The synod will not take up the matter until 1956.

Specifically, the young minister is accused of denying the Virgin birth of Christ, the physical resurrection of Jesus, the occurrence of some miracles and the certain effects of prayer. The charges, filed by an investigating board, center around 18 sermons which he delivered to his 225-member congregation earlier this year.

Michigan Judge Rules Blonde Is 'Liability'

MUSKEGON, Mich., July 28 (AP)—Circuit Judge Henry L. Beers, hearing a divorce property settlement case, ruled today that "a blonde is not an asset, but a liability."

The ruling involved an item listing "a blonde" in the division of $25,000 common property in a divorce suit. The plaintiff's counsel termed the blonde "the cause of the separation and divorce" and said she should be worth something in settlement.

Judge Beers said:

"I have known too many men in similar cases who will argue with great force based on sad personal experience that such an item is not an asset but is rather a tremendous liability."

Picnicker Urges Metered Tables

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., July 28 (AP)—Parking meters have been proposed to handle the demand for picnic tables at crowded city parks.

Mrs. Dorothea Adams, a housewife, told the City Commission her plan would end hogging of picnic tables. The commission took the matter under advisement.

New Drug Flown Across Ocean Given To Sick Baby In Italy

LEGHORN, Italy, July 28 (AP)—A new drug was flown across the Atlantic, relayed here by U. S. Army courier and given today to a desperately sick baby girl in the hope it may save her life.

U. S. Army officers stood by while an Italian physician administered the drug amphotericin to Gloria Winter, 7-month-old daughter of an Italian civil employee of the U. S. base here.

Lymphatic Leukemia

Gloria is suffering from lymphatic leukemia. On the appeal of her father, the U. S. Army undertook to find the new medicine that may prolong her life.

"The case has gone pretty far, but we can try," said Lt. Col. George Parton of Wellesley, Mass., commander of the Leghorn Base Hospital.

Gloria's father, 32-year-old Genaro Winter, stood by her bedside with tears in his eyes.

"We're thankful ... We're so thankful!" he said. "The Americans have shown us they are real friends."

Winter is an employee of the Army base accounting section. When his daughter's illness was diagnosed and numerous blood transfusions failed to stem the disease, he asked U. S. soldiers on the base if the United States might have some drug that would help.

His plea was referred to Parton. He named the drug. Officers called Rome. Pan American Airways agreed to fly the medicine from New York.

Little Time Elapsed

It arrived this afternoon in Rome, where Capt. Harry W. Carroll of Racine, Wis., was waiting at the airport. In a liaison plane piloted by Capt. Frank E. Troutman of Little Rock, Ark., he brought the medicine to Leghorn.

Scarcely 24 hours had elapsed from the original plea until the drug's arrival.

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Total deposits in the nation's 527 mutual savings banks increased 973 million dollars during the first six months of this year to reach a record $27,324,000,000, the National Assn. of Mutual Savings Banks announced today.

Temperature Highs Lowest In Month

MAXIMUM temperatures were cooler in most parts of Monroe County yesterday than they had been the past month.

In Mount Pocono official U. S. Weather Bureau instruments showed a high of 81 for the day. This was set at 1 p.m. The low for the period was 69 degrees—registered at 9 last night.

According to official instruments, the relative humidity reached a high of 60 per cent during the day.

There was also some brief showers during the day. They did almost nothing to relieve the parched crops and dying gardens in the area.

Fishing Code Is Amended

HARRISBURG, July 28 (AP)—Gov. Leader today signed into law an amendment to the fishing code that would permit fishing along piers of stocked streams between March 15 and April 15.

At present, when any part of a stream, river, lake or pond is stocked within the preceding year no fishing is allowed in the month immediately preceding the opening of the trout season.

Police Take Hard-Luck, Runaway Constable From Plane, Recover $79,000 Payroll Intact

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 28 (AP)—A runaway constable with $79,000 cash was captured at the Tri-State Airport here today after the airliner on which he was bound for Columbus, Ohio, was signaled to land.

Police were waiting and snapped handcuffs on Tom Bivens, 41, of Bluefield and he handed over a top-grain leather brief case.

"I've had a hard time the last three or four years, with a lot of sickness in the family," Bivens told Detective Eris Fry.

He Did Wrong

"I decided to do something about it. It looks like I did wrong."

What he did, police said, was to pick up the payroll for the American Coal Co. from the Flat Top National Bank in Bluefield and abscond with it.

Bivens and another constable, Lewis H. Perdue, normally received the payroll together for delivery to the McComas mine of the American Co.

Bivens appeared alone at the bank today, however, and was on his way at 8:15 a.m.

Fast police work and crackling radio calls led to his capture on a Piedmont Airlines plane here within four hours.

Shariff Played Hunch

He was hustled into the airport manager's office while incoming and outgoing plane passengers gaped. The police made a hasty check of the bundles of cash in the brief case. They were all there, in small bills, none larger than $50.

Sheriff P. L. Dye of Mercer County was credited with the moves in running the constable down. Fifteen minutes after being informed of Bivens' disappearance he drove to the Mercer County Airport between Bluefield and Princeton.

He "figured," Dye said that Bivens might catch a plane.

There he learned Bivens had boarded the plane, bound for Charleston and Columbus, Ohio, 40 minutes earlier.

Plane Circles Airport

Dye immediately called the Charleston state police radio center. The plane had already landed and taken off from the Kanawha Airport.

Both the Huntington state police and Civil Aeronautics Authority at Kanawha Airport were contacted.

Word next was flashed to the crew of the airliner to circle the Tri-State Airport. It did so briefly, allowing time for the state and Huntington city police to arrive at the scene, and Bivens walked off the plane a prisoner.

Bivens hesitated as if to re-enter the plane, then resignedly gave up.

36 Japanese Girls Drown In Big Wave

TSU, Japan, Friday, July 29 (AP)—A great wave surged out of the treacherous Ise Sea yesterday and drowned 36 of 47 Japanese junior high school girls who were taking a swimming test.

Witnesses said the girls were standing in placid waters, waist deep, about 35 feet out from the beach.

Then the great breaker rolled in without warning, swept over the entire class, and carried the girls out to sea with its fearful undertow.

There was wild confusion. The happy shouts of the girls turned to cries of "Tasukete! Tasukete!" (help).

Efforts Delayed

Approximately 200 fishermen, Japanese soldiers and other rescuers in boats brought all 47 to shore within a half hour. But police said there was delay in artificial respiration efforts and only 11 could be revived.

Police pronounced 36 of them dead and bore them off in Japanese army jeeps to their tearful parents. It was Japan's worst swimming beach disaster.

The girls, aged 13 to 15, were among 385 students from a nearby junior high school who were on the final day of a week-long swim course on the beach at Tsu, 45 miles southwest of Nagoya.

PP&L To Build Privately Financed Atomic Electric Plant

1962 Slated As In-Service Date For Unit

CHARLES E. OAKES, president of Pennsylvania Power & Light Co., yesterday informed Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman, and Gen. K. E. Fields, general manager, of the Atomic Energy Commission, of PP&L's decision to build a privately financed atomic electric power plant of at least 150,000 kilowatts, outlining the homogeneous type reactor, on the basis that such a plant will be commercially competitive with generating stations using conventional fuels. The in-service date for the new unit on the PP&L system is planned for 1962.

Mr. Oakes said that a contract had been entered into with Westinghouse Electric Corp., as co-developer with PP&L in the design and as supplier for the pioneering reactor and its related electric generating equipment. The joint program will be known as the Pennsylvania Advance Reactor Project (PAR Project).

Mr. Oakes said, "PP&L for some time has been hard at work on studies, under the AEC Study Agreement of the potentialities of atomic energy as a heat source for electric power generation and more recently has been making studies of the various types of nuclear reactors. Our research leads us to the conclusion that the homogeneous type of reactor is economical and a promising bet."

Five-Year Program

"It is one of the several types on which AEC has been working aggressively as part of its five-year program. The present problem with each type is to convert the energy gained by these new heat sources through research and experimentation into designs useful for full-scale commercial electric power generation."

"With this appointment recently expressed that no private utility had yet announced plans for building a homogeneous type atomic electric plant, we believe our plan for moving ahead in this field will become highly significant and a real contribution to technological progress."

Pennsylvania's decision to proceed with this type of reactor," Mr. Oakes said, "means that private initiative in the United States has now accepted this future challenge to make atomic-electric power a practical reality and a substantial factor in the nation's economic progress."

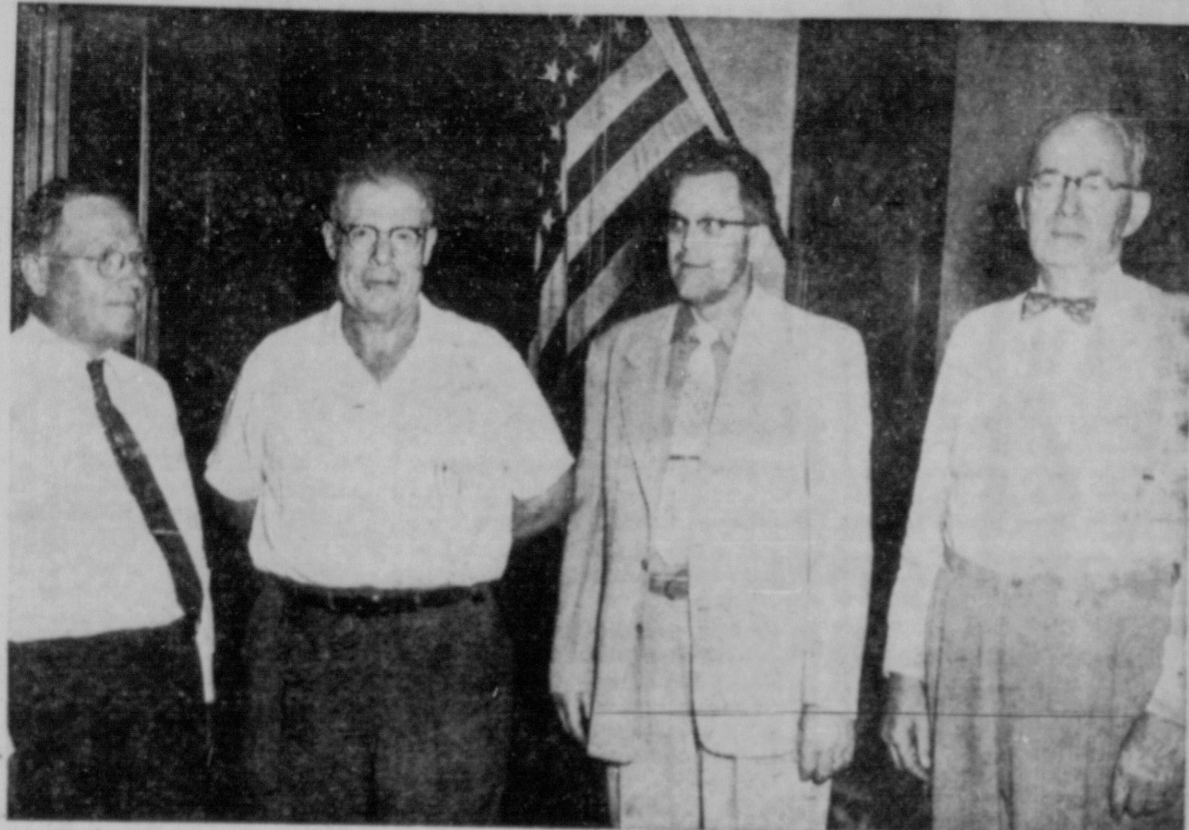

Operates Continuously

"In the homogeneous reactor the fuel is in liquid form. This liquid in addition to containing the radio-active fuel also includes coolant and moderator to control fission process. The liquid circulates freely throughout the nuclear power plant system and carries heat to steam generators. Steam from the generators spin turbines which produce the electricity. The use of the liquid fuel system will permit the reactor, or atomic furnace, to operate continuously as new liquid nuclear fuel can be added while the reactor is running."

Mr. Oakes did not disclose the power plant site but stated that "naturally it will be located in our service area," and added, "we look to this pioneering atomic-electric plant as an effective addition to the PP&L system in meeting some of the future demands of our customers. We are entering this program with the firm conviction that we will be fully successful in our venture. As provided in the Atomic Energy Act of 1949, PP&L will apply to AEC for the necessary licenses."

Three Named As Defendants In $132,653 Suit Filed By Meinhardt After Accident

A SUIT FOR $132,653.95 has been filed at the office of the clerk of courts at Monroe County Court House.

The trespass complaint was filed by Charles R. Meinhardt of Palmer Township near Easton through his attorneys Elmer D. Christine and Walter Olenick.

Named defendants in the suit are Louis G. Feldman, Hazleton, administrator of the estate of Joseph Gortva; William Altomose, Effort and Herbert R. Imbt Co., Inc., State College.

The complaint alleges that on Aug. 1, 1954 Meinhardt was a passenger in a pickup truck owned and operated by Altomose at about 5:30 p. m. Altomose, the suit says, was driving north on Route 115 about one mile north of Effort.

Occurred on Route 115

At the given place and time, the suit alleges, Joseph Gortva, now deceased, was driving south on Route 115. The Imbt company, the suit claims, was general contractor of a reconstruction project then going on on Route 115 and "had under its care the supervision and control of said portion of" the highway.

"On the date . . . and for several months prior thereto," the suit alleges, "said portion of (the highway) although under reconstruction was open to public use. On the date . . . and for some time prior thereto, with the knowledge of Herbert R. Imbt Co. Inc. there existed at a point off the incomplete shoulder of the southerly lane of said (highway) several feet south of the . . . point of impact, a certain large hole or excavation to be used for the installation of a drainage ditch and appurtenant walls."

The complaint further alleges that "the west shoulder . . . had been excavated to a depth of approximately three or four inches, thereby creating a sharp drop of said depth from the level of the highway."

Alleges Carelessness
The complaint continues: "... Joseph Gortva . . . operated his automobile in such a careless, reckless and negligent manner that the right wheels of his vehicle were off the southerly lane of said highway . . . and in attempting to avoid the unbaricaded and unprotected hole . . . Gortva made a sudden left turn onto (Route 115) . . . as a result of which he swerved at right angles to and across the northerly lane of said highway, whereupon the vehicle operated by (him) came into violent contact

$500 Damage Results When Autos Crash

A TWO-CAR crash on Phillips St., Stroudsburg caused an estimated $500 property damage at 4:50 p. m. yesterday.

Stroudsburg borough police officer G. W. Heberling investigated. Heberling said a car driven by Rudolph Rolph, of 463 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg hit the rear of a car driven by Carrie Bonser, of Marshalls Creek.

The Bonser car had stopped at a bad spot in the road, Heberling said and the Rolph car, approaching from behind, ran into the rear of the Bonser vehicle. Damage to Rolph's car was about $400, the police report said.

Police Recover Stolen Car

STROUDSBURG STATE police recently recovered an Easton car which was stolen last January.

The car—stripped of its motor, license plate and accessories—was found in Hamilton Township near a water company pumping station. By checking serial numbers it was determined the car was the same one stolen from an Easton man who, city police there said, had been reimbursed for loss of the auto by his insurance company.

Owner of the car was Hobart A. Borger, 1022 Butler St., Easton, police in that city reported.

Leader Hopes Senate Will Approve Tax

nent of the tax bill, had been offered a state job to vote for it, the governor answered that he had no knowledge of such a move.

Pro-FEPC Appointee

On another matter Gov. Leader urged selection of a "pro-FEPC" Republican House member to the joint conference committee that will settle differences between House and Senate on the administration's fair employment practices legislation.

"This is our hope of getting a better bill," he said. He termed Senate amendments "very bad" and referred particularly to ones that would include age as a factor upon which job discrimination could be banned and one that would exclude employers with less than 25 workers instead of only those with less than 6.

The governor also disclosed that he is holding back on his tentative vacation plans, fixed for the next two weeks, because of the tax situation. "I will stay right here as long as there is anything I can do to help enactment of this tax program."

Republican protests against the classified income tax on behalf of widows were termed "crocodile tears" by Leader.

"They don't impress me too much." There is only one real solution for relatively small groups such as widows, he added. "That is to get a graduated income tax."

Integration Has Saved Public Many Millions, PP&L Claims

HARRISBURG, July 28 (AP)—A vice president of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., Allentown, told a Public Utility Commission hearing today that his firm brought 300 smaller operations into its company to save the customer millions of dollars every year in rate charges.

"Since we began in 1920 until 1930, we brought 300 little electric producers into our firm—an integration that has resulted in huge savings to the public," said R. C. Swartz, vice president in charge of sales and rates.

Swartz said rates were reduced by 8½ million dollars a year due to the integration and said that an additional 12½ million dollars annually saved was used to stave off any rate increases that would have been necessary.

He said the consumer, in effect, receives some 21 million dollars a year in savings through the company's integration plan.

Swartz was one of several witnesses who testified for the company at the third day of hearings into a charge by 23 plant owners that PP&L is receiving too high a return on its investment by charging excessive rates.

C. A. Carpenter, assistant planning engineer, testified earlier that in 1920 the company had a service area of 2,000 square miles which he said was increased to 9,000 square miles by 1930 under the integration plan.

Future Filled With Peril And Hope, Says Churchman In Key World Council Role

By George W. Cornell

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—As the man with the gavel stepped before the dignified church assembly, the microphone began making noises. The man paused, furrowed his brow. Is that thing whistling at me or some pretty girl?

He tapped the microphone and it squealed. He jerked back his hand. "It's alive!" An assistant rushed up and began roughly thumping the ailing instrument.

The man with the gavel appeared. "But don't kill it." By then, the sedate church meeting was rippling with laughter, and the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry was firmly in command of the finesse that could have served him as an actor, politician or what he is—a giant of modern Christianity.

Holds Key Position

A buoyant, brainy man, who can slash through parliamentary tangles with deft, sure strokes, or turn an impromptu sermon into gripping drama, Dr. Fry today occupies a pivotal place in contemporary religious activity.

Next week, in Davos, Switzerland, the 54-year-old president of the United Lutheran Church in America will be handling one of his crucial Christian chores—chairman of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches.

"The World Council now is ready for important tasks," he said before he left for the seven-day meeting, which begins Tuesday.

"With Christians of many confessions, on both sides of the Iron Curtain, in both Asia and the Western world, working together more intimately... than ever before, the near future is full of peril and hope."

Hailed By Henninger

If diplomacy, organization skill and spiritual zeal can lift the hope above the peril, Dr. Fry is a good bet to help do it.

A long-time observer, Judge James F. Henninger, of Allentown, Pa., who has sometimes clashed with Dr. Fry in church policy debates, once said:

"He is unquestionably an administrative genius. But his greatest contribution is a spiritual one."

A tall, oval-faced man in clerical collar, with a big silver cross dangling at his chest, Dr. Fry has a quick wit, a pungent tongue, and a way of making a calm, restrained speech ring with power and reverence.

Largest Lutheran Body

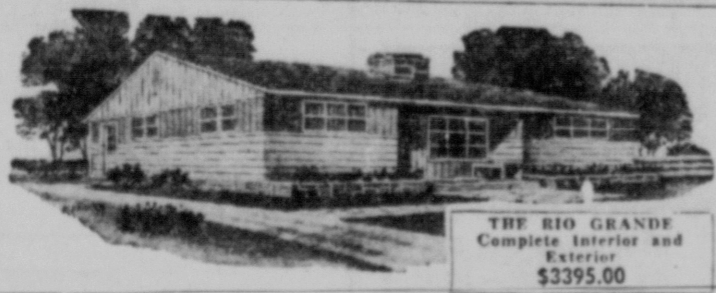

In his present leadership in a council of Orthodox, Anglican and Protestant Christians—most of them stemming from Protestant tradition—Dr. Fry symbolizes the key place of Lutheranism in founding that tradition.

His own church, with 2½ million members, is this country's largest Lutheran body. Dr. Fry has headed it for a decade, after previously serving as a pastor at churches in Yonkers, N. Y., and Akron, Ohio.

A cow that does not produce more than 6,000 pounds of milk in a 10-month production period is not worth keeping, a Purdue University notice to dairymen says.

Endicott-Johnson Shoe Store
Now In Modern, New Quarters

ENDICOTT-JOHNSON'S new shoe store in the former Newberry store building at 622 Main St., Stroudsburg is a prime example of a modern merchandising center and the policy of expansion to provide a better type of service.

Core of the service factor is that the modern new store will carry 10,800 pairs of shoes, compared with some 6,000 in the old store. And these 4,800 additional pairs are carried on modern shelving, rather than stacked on ledges as they were in storage in the old store.

Wider variety, wider volume in sizes and a great deal more effective and prompt service program are possible under the new store arrangements.

Charles Locke, manager of the Endicott-Johnson installation, noted all these features yesterday as the attractive new shoe store drew attention from many people.

Front of the building has been improved with a modern aluminum paneling. Interior, redecorated in soft colors with excellent light and colorful rubber tile flooring, has a spaciousness and service arrangement which far surpasses the previous operation.

RAYMOND PRICE Inc., the Ford dealership at Crocco, has been presented a special leadership citation by Henry Ford, II, president of Ford Motor Co.

The local dealership won the citation, because more Ford cars were sold in 1954 than any other make in the dealer's area of primary sales responsibility. High standards of customer service also contributed to Raymond Price, Inc., winning this award.

Raymond Price, Inc. is one of approximately 3,000 Ford dealers to receive this citation from Henry Ford, II. On a national scale, retail sales of Ford cars in 1954 exceeded those of any other make by 25,257 units.

Tucker-Leedy Wedding At Pen Argyl

Ranger—Miss Mary Elizabeth Leedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leedy, 721 Pen Argyl St., Pen Argyl, and George A. Tucker, of 202 Chestnut St., Pen Argyl, were married on Saturday afternoon at St. Elizabeth's Church, Pen Argyl, with Rev. Bruce F. Kelly performing the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of pleated nylon net and carried a prayer book with an orchid.

Miss Vera Tucker, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a mint green gown and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Miss Patricia Leedy, sister of the bride, and Miss Lois Davis were junior bridesmaids. They wore yellow gowns and carried bouquets of yellow pompons.

Richard Tucker served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Robert Tucker, another brother, and Donald Gold, both of Pen Argyl.

A reception was held at the Bocce Club, Pen Argyl.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Tucker are graduates of Pen Argyl High School. Mrs. Tucker is employed in the office of A and H Sportswear, while Mr. Tucker is employed as a shipping clerk with the same firm. After a wedding trip through the Southern states, they will make their home in Pen Argyl.

Son Visits Father, 93

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Bevan of Philadelphia are returning to their home after spending a few days with Mr. Bevan's father, who was 93 years old on July 26. Mr. Bevan Sr. makes his home with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowly of 830 Thomas Street.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

You had to be outside and in just the right spot to get caught in a rainstorm yesterday. The drops were big and few but they were wet and felt wonderful. If there had been time you could have rushed in, awakened the baby from his nap, and shown him his first raindrops.

However, there wasn't time and all you'd have had was tears. Things are so dry these days, though, that maybe even tears are out of the question.

It's rather frightening seeing the great cracks opening in the fairways and in the fields as the whole crust of the earth dries out. It's sad to see the lawns all brown and sere with only those horrible spiky parrot weeds growing green and lush.

The cucumber pines are creeping in, too, to bloom like anything. Why is it that all the things you don't want in your garden thrive in dry weather, and your carefully-nurtured, tediously-weeded, expensively-fertilized stuff just turns up its toes and droops?

There's probably a moral in there somewhere, but I hate to think what it is. Let's think of something more cheerful—like how good the breeze felt when it came up last night, about how happy the air-conditioning people must be, about all the shows coming up.

There's a dog show, a horse show, and antiques show, and you can take your pick or do all three. Right now the county band concert at the playground sounds like the most restful.

Modern Portia Says Women May Be Best Lawyers

Greenville, S. C.—Opportunities are opening for women in all fields of law, says Miss Jim Perry of Greenville, the first woman president of a South Carolina bar organization.

Miss Perry, who recently was elected president of the Greenville Bar Assn., says that there is a definite need for feminine lawyers to represent women and children. Such clients will talk more freely and frankly with a woman, she says.

Citing her pleasant associations with fellow attorneys, Miss Perry says that men are now accepting women in the courts more readily than they did several years ago.

Her advice to any would-be woman lawyer is to take a business course along with her legal studies and to get experience in a lawyer's office as a secretary. She says this is a practical opening wedge to the profession.

Miss Perry also has counsel for homemakers. She urges them to accept the responsibility of participating in all phases of public affairs and government.

Lawmaking is like housekeeping on a larger scale, she says. As women build their homes on firm foundations, they should see that their city, state, and national governments come up to the level of their home. The woman's viewpoint is definitely needed in politics.

The home should come first, she says, but modern conveniences have left mothers free time which can be spent in civic activities. The way in which a community is run affects every home to the core.

The attractive Miss Perry has made history in Southern law circles before. She was the first woman to be admitted to the South Carolina Bar Assn. She received her law degree in 1918 from the University of California, some 3000 miles from her native home of Greenville.

Miss Perry was named Jim because her father wanted a son, and refused to change the name he had chosen when the baby turned out to be a girl.

She is a national charter member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, having attended its first convention in St. Louis.

Vesper Service On Big Pocono For Grace Guild

Tannersville—The Women's Guild of Grace Evan, and Ref. Church motored to the top of Big Pocono on Monday night, with several men of the Brotherhood driving for the group. Vesper services were held and worship was based on the theme "On the Mountain Top." All the members participated in the program.

Afterwards the business meeting was held in the church. The date for the next bake sale was planned for the last Friday in August, the 26, to be held at the fire hall in Tannersville in the afternoon. Final arrangements were made for the trip to Cedar Crest College on July 28.

Not including the men, there were 17 Guild members present for this meeting.

The other officers include: senior past president, Louise Weber; junior past president, Verna Basselli; vice president, Helen Mosteller; invocator, Kathryn Rice; Warden, Gladys George; inner guard, Margaret LaBalle; outer guard, Hettie Cramer; representative, Nettie Smith; alternate Katherine Stout; degree team captain, Kathryn Rice; and pianist, Romayne LaBar.

Hot Weather Dishes Easy On Cook, Budget

When warm weather arrives, the kitchen is a pretty deserted place as more and more families take to the great outdoors for their dining.

Whether you own a barbecue and the full range of patio equipment or simply carry the dishes to a table outside, you'll find macaroni and canned meats an easy solution to the problem of foods that are hearty and nourishing yet light and so easy to prepare.

Spaghetti Dishes

To cook up a batch of spaghetti, macaroni or noodles, a few quick twists with the faithful can opener will have the meat ready for heating in a matter of minutes. Noodle and Corn Beef Skillet to serve 4 is a cinch to prepare and so good, too.

Prepare 8 oz. medium egg noodles according to package directions. Drain in colander. Meanwhile, melt 3 tsp. butter and add 1 medium-sized, thinly sliced onion and 1/2 c. finely sliced celery. Cook over low heat until onion is tender.

Add noodles and an 8 oz. can diced carrots, drained, and a 12 oz. can corned beef, sliced. Continue cooking over low heat, stirring occasionally, to serving temperature—about 10 min.

Beef Steak Spaghetti is a really delicious main dish that belies its easy origins. To serve 4, melt 2 tsp. butter and add a medium-sized onion and 4 oz. fresh mushrooms, thinly sliced. Cook over medium heat until mushrooms are browned. Add 1 minced garlic clove, 1/2 tsp. paprika, a 13 oz. can beef sandwich steaks in gravy, 1 c. canned or cooked green beans and 2/3 c. water. Cover and heat

In Her Cups, 300 Of Them

Peabody, Mass.—There is never a shortage of teacups in the home of Mrs. Harold Bliss—she has 300 of them.

The smallest has a base the size of a dime. The largest holds a quart. Nearly every country in the world is represented in the collection. One of the cups was made for the coronation of King Edward VII, and was sold in Nassau just before he abdicated.

Mrs. Bliss says she began collecting because "more friends are made over teacups than one would ever dream."

At the moment, I'd rather keep my eyes off the thermometer—I have too good an idea what it might say. But I must admit the new combination thermometer and barometer for sale in our gift department is a very attractive accessory. The stand is a dull green and the metal is silvery, good quality chrome. The price is 7.95 . . . Brass candlesticks that hang suspended from the ceiling are things of beauty—and I can just visualize those we sell in our center aisle, decorating the home at Christmas or some such season. These have places for five candles, and while we're showing them with rather tall tapers, Hannah Shupp suggests that the smaller, twisted candles from Sweden might be even more effective. At 15.00 they're a very romantic buy with an old-world flavor that's very special holidayish . . . I've been meaning to tell you about the new hardwood spice racks priced at 1.98 and 5.50, but somehow I always run out of space before I reach that point on my notes. The larger set has twelve china spice containers, the other six, if memory serves. At any rate, either would look very pretty on the kitchen wall.

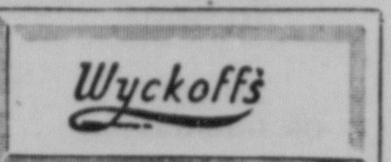

Maybe Shorty Widmer wants to turn your thoughts to Fall and a leisurely river cruise. Or maybe he's just drumming up business now for the annual Hudson River trip. In any case, he says it's not a minute too early to tell you about it. The date has been set for Monday, September 19th and the way I feel this minute I'll definitely go along if they permit me to tie a rope around my waist and be dragged upstream.

A new feature this year will be a side trip to the Franklin Delano Roosevelt home and museum at Hyde Park. This is optional. Wyckoff's, incidentally, is very privileged to be able to take sightseers there on a Monday as the grounds are usually closed on that day. However, special permission has been granted.

Tickets for adults will be priced at 5.00 with an additional charge of 2.00 for the Hyde Park trip and a fee of 25c to tour the museum. Student tickets are priced at 3.50 plus the extras.

That's all I'll tell you today—but doesn't it sound glorious? And isn't my idea about the rope the best of all, if only we can change that date to the first week of August or so?

Our Kreller Demonstration continues today and tomorrow in the center aisle adjacent to our candy department and everyone is invited to sample this very delicious hard candy. We know that once you taste the many different types of this perfect summer sweet, you'll buy! And we're letting you in on a secret. The price goes up ten cents in just a very few days. Right now you pay 69c a pound.

Steady Growth Of Summer Theaters Told

THE ROLE of the Summer theater in community living was the topic of an address before Stroudsburg Rotary Club yesterday.

Rowena Stevens, owner-producer of Pocono Playhouse at Mountaintop, was the speaker. Mrs. Stevens traced the background of Summer theater from its beginning—in the years before the war—as a showplace for seasonally unemployed acting talent from Broadway to its present high peak today.

In 1954, Mrs. Stevens pointed out, there were 144 theaters. These theaters employed some 3,000 actors throughout the United States. Responsible to Public

Mrs. Stevens said that it is her firm belief that the Summer theater has a responsibility to the public and that it must contribute constructively to the community as a whole.

It does this, she said, by offering employment to a rather large number of persons—most of whom spend their payrolls in the community stores, restaurants and rooming houses.

Now in its ninth year of successful operation, Pocono Playhouse and its staff, desires to please the public of Monroe County and the visitors to the area. Criticism and comment are invited at all times, Mrs. Stevens said.

The speaker was introduced by John R. Wilson, program chairman for the meeting yesterday.

Families Grow Together On First Long Car Tour

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.
AP Newsfeatures

NOW THAT THE children are old enough you think it's time to take that long dreamed-of trip.

A vagabonding trip by car with the whole family can be a heap of fun—it can be a ghastly nightmare, too, if you're not careful.

First, are the children old enough? I'd say that, if your youngest child is at least 8, you've waited long enough. Ten years old would be better for many children. Don't try a long car trip for fun with children much younger than this.

Plan your trip—but don't plan every last detail. One of the joys of a long car trip is being able to do the unexpected when an unusual opportunity develops.

The Wentworths went west with their three youngsters (ages 10, 12 and 16). One evening after supper they took a walk down into a small town in the Dakota wheatlands. The boys wanted to see a wheat elevator. There the 10-year-old daughter struck up a conversation with a young farmer. Pretty soon the whole family was in on the new friendship. The upshot was an invitation to come out to the farm next day. Would the boys like to ride the combine? The Wentworths' plans were flexible enough to be able to accept this invitation. The day was a great success and one of the highlights of the trip.

Don't be too ambitious in the amount of territory you are planning to cover. There will be other summers coming—and more trips if this one is a success. Two hundred fifty miles or at most three hundred is as much as you should ever plan for one day. And there should be plenty of days in which you hardly make any miles at all.

The big trucking companies never allow their men more than final plans will be made for a summer camp hike.

This affair will be held Aug. 27 at Naomi Lake Boat House. All members of the club are selling tickets.

Air-Cooled Subway Cars Promised

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—The wilting thousands who suffer torturing temperatures twice daily riding New York City subways in the summer today got their greatest news in the 51-year history of the underground system.

Transit officials are looking into the possibility of air-conditioning all trains.

That, to a subway rider, would surpass anything imaginable—even getting a seat, a long-forgotten luxury.

Chairman Charles L. Patterson of the Transit Authority, announced that an experimental air-conditioned subway car is expected to be put in operation before the end of the summer.

If it proves successful, he said, officials will study the feasibility of cooling all cars.

behind the dam, and make a new dam necessary!

By all means take a trip and show your youngsters some of these rather wonderful United States of ours. Take it easy and come home not only with a knowledge of the country but with renewed feeling of family solidarity. Good warm family vacations can do wonders to give children that basic security we are always talking about.
